TURNER DONOVAN MILITARY BOOKS

Catalogue No. 159 "Hindenburg Line" – November 2018

Another selection of fresh stock in all our customary areas, but fittingly, in view of the 100th anniversary of the 1918 armistice, which takes place next weekend, the catalogue is very strong in our prime speciality – The Great War, 1914-1918. It includes some rare memorial volumes, various other memoirs and works of poetry and prose, as well as works of official history, regimental history and several rare unpublished typescript memoirs. I hope you will find something of interest.

Educated at Braeside School, West Kirby, 1902-1905; Gresham's School, Holt, Norfolk, 1905-1911; New College Oxford, 1911-1914. 2nd Lieutenant, King's Royal Rifle Corps, August 15th, 1914, Killed in Action at Givenchy, March 10th, 1915. 1st Ed., 79pp., portrait frontis. Liverpool: Henry Young & Sons., For Private Circulation. 1915

Herron, a member of the OTC at New College, applied for a commission immediately war was declared, was gazetted to the KRRC 1914 & joined the 1st Bn. at the end of November ("Off to the front at last!") KiA leading a charge against the German trenches at Givenchy three-&a-half months later. The book consists entirely of his letters written between Aug. 1914-March 9th 1915, followed by letters of condolence, &c. His letters are patriotic & optimistic in spite of the news of reverses in France & of the deaths of friends - & also provide good descriptions of the routine of trench life in this early period & the constant threat from snipers. When his sgt. was killed he wrote: "The bullet was meant for me, as he had just shown me a loophole from which the whole of their line could be seen, & I took a good look through, & unfortunately he just glanced through it after me & was hit." A very moving & evocative memorial. Orig. grey paper covd. boards, wheat cloth backstrip, gilt to front & spine, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58508] £165

100. ANAND (Mulk Raj) Across the Black Waters: A Novel. 1st Ed., 357pp. Cape. 1940
Fine novel of the experiences of an Indian Regiment & its soldiers in France & Flanders, 1914-15. The father of the distinguished novelist was a Subedar in the 2nd Bn. 17th Dogra Regt., & although he had not served in France his son was undoubtedly brought up steeped in Indian Army history. Based on the movements & operations of the 57th Wilde's Rifles & is a very effective portrayal of the Indian experience on the Western Front. (The 'Black Water' was the Indian name for the sea: very few of the men who embarked with the IA in 1914 had ever seen it until 1914.) Orig. grey cloth, titled in black to front & sp., sp. sl. tanned o/w VG & rare original edition. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58498] £85

101. ARNEWOOD [Pseud. of COOKE (Col. E.D.M.H., DSO, RA)] With the Guns West & East. Illustrated by Lt.-Col. E.A. Hobday, CMG (& two sketches by L. Raven Hill). 1st Ed., 96pp., 26 plates. Privately published in a Limited Edition of 200 Copies. 1923

Cooke went to France with 5th Royal Horse Artillery Brigade in 1914. Subsequently commanded a Battery & gives a very good account of The Battle of Loos, when he acted in support of 15th (Scottish) Div. In 1916 he took a newly raised New Army battery of the 34th Div. to France & fought with them on the Somme until August when selected to form a gunnery school in India. Later served with 60th (London) Div. in Palestine 1917-18 including the capture of Jerusalem. Falls says "This last is particularly interesting as he gives a graphic account of the capture of Jerusalem, into the suburbs of which he must have been about the first man in the British Army to penetrate." Orig. blue paper covd. boards with wheat cloth spine strip, paper label to front board, VG & very rare: no. 42 of 200 numbered copies printed. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57548] £245

Humphreys. 1918 [And:] [i]+49pp., carbon typescript. Contemp. 1918

Eric Fox Pitt Lubbock was born in 1893, son of Lord and Lady Avebury. He was Ed. at Eton and was at Balliol in 1914 when he volunteered as an R.A.C. driver, later receiving a commission in the A.S.C., then transferring to the Royal Flying Corps. He won the M.C. in 1916 with 45 Squadron and was KiA flying over the Ypres Salient on 11th March 1917. He was twenty-three & his grave lies in Lijssenthoek Military Cemetery. Attractive memorial which includes his war diary and letters from the Front, also extracts from his mother's diary. Interesting copy with Raglan family bookplate, with 2pp. typed copy of a letter of condolence from the commander of 11th Wing RFC, Col. George Stopford affixed to front endpapers, loosely inserted fine studio portraits (by Barnett & Co., Knightsbridge) of Lady Avebury & the subject's brother, Capt. Hon. Harold Fox Pitt Lubbock, in service dress uniform of the West Kent Yeomanry (he was subsequently transferred to the Grenadier Guards & KiA in France on 4th April 1918). Blue cloth, gilt to front and spine, VG & accompanied by rare typescript of Eric Lubbock's recollections of the early months of the outbreak of the war & a diary of his experience in France as a volunteer driver up to 2nd Nov. 1914 of which only extracts appear in the printed memoir. This 'supplementary' volume was bound by Hatchards to the same dimensions & in the same cloth, with the same gilt title to front ("Eric Fox Pitt Lubbock") as the printed memorial volume. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58506] £500

Largely devoted to his interesting WW1 career as GOC 2nd Div. in 1914: Aisne, 1st Ypres &c., GOC I Corps in France then C.-in-C. Gallipoli in succession to Hamilton (including the evacuation). Cmd. 1st Army in France 1916 then as C.-in-C. India was involved in direction of Mesopotamia campaign. Orig. blue cloth, gilt, VG & very scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 56817] £75
109. BERNARD (Oliver P. [OBE, MC]) Cock Sparrow: A True Chronicle. 1st Ed., 384pp. Cape. 1936
Rare memoirs of Oliver Percy Bernard (1881-1939), self-taught artist & set-designer, architect of, inter al, the Strand Place Hotel. Initially rejected for military service because of poor hearing, he was eventually commissioned in the Royal Engineers in 1916 & became a camouflage officer in France. The Western Front occupies nearly 200 pages, with much of great interest on his work in the Ypres salient &c., & the book is "Dedicated to the Corps of Royal Engineers." Bernard had survived the sinking of the Lusitania, produced much great work between the wars & died in 1939 (soon after he inscribed this copy). Orig. red cloth, gilt, VG, inscribed by the author: To Pauline with many happy returns 30:3:39 Oliver Bernard, plus press cutting portrait of Oliver to paste down & Ex-Libris label of the architectural historian, writer & broadcaster Gavin Stamp. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58306] £225

112. BLAKER (Richard) Medal Without Bar. 1st Ed., 638pp. VG in sl. chipped dw. H&S. 1930
 Fine novel, recently becoming acclaimed although not well known, based on the author's experiences with a 4.5-inch How. battery in F&F, a realistic vision of life & work in the battery, emphasising comradeship & sacrifice. Falls awards a star & notes "one of the longest & most detailed of war novels... gives perhaps the finest picture yet painted of life in a field-artillery battery. He is sentimental in that shame-faced British manner which is really more sentimental than Latin emotionalism, but his portraits are by no means necessarily false for that. His attitude to the war itself is sane & just. This is one of the books which could not possibly have been written save upon the foundation of experience." Lengthy inscrip. on front paste-down o/w VG in sl. chipped dw & uncommon thus. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57602] £125

114. BOMBARDIER "X" So This Was War! The Truth About the Western & Eastern Fronts Revealed. 1st Ed., 224pp., 16 photos. Hutchinson. nd.
 Gunner's letters from the Western Front & Salonika: the anonymous author apparently enlisted aged 16 early in the war, & in a Preface Shaw Desmond (pseud. of Charles Nathaniel Lowe Shaw: writer, & Founder of the International Institute for Psychical Research) explains that "He tells not only of howling 'H.E,' or of whining bullet, of suffocating gas, but also of those other horrors, none the less grisly, that lie in wait to trip the flying feet of eager, high-spirited youth. Of pleasant vice that hides disease. Of the dysentery that tears at the bowels of a man... The trench songs, the flash of the cards & the flash of eyes, & of steel, in the estaminets... The monstrous, over-fed rats, lolloping from corpse to corpse..." - Falls would no doubt have had much to say about these themes & about some of the author's stories, such as a quarrel between a Scottish corporal & a coloured soldier that he witnessed in Amiens: "The Scotsman had, apparently, passed some nasty remark which the West Indian resented. High words were followed by a wicked tussle. Steel glistened in the murkey light of spluttering candles, & as the big black man dropped, twisting to the floor, a nasty, curved knife fell from his twitching hand. The Corporal was arrested & led away, blood dripping from his naked bayonet." Orig. cloth, titled in black, nice clean copy, VG & scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57577] £65

Small volume of thoughts on service in France, inc. A Private's Thoughts About the Padre ("Few padres manage to break down a soldier's prejudice. I have been in tents when the entry of a chaplain has changed the gay company into one of cold reserve... Many privates have told me that they do not like to go & see a padre because he is an officer... If only Tommy would put aside his foolish abjection & make a real pal of the padre, he in turn would be a very valuable friend in return. The help I have personally received from chaplains... often gives me cause for gratitude & makes me thankful that I overcame this prejudice...") 149. HAMILTON (Lt.-Col. Hon. R.G.A.) The War Diary of the Master of Belhaven 1914-1918. 1st Ed., viii+472pp., portrait frontis., 29 maps. John Murray. 1924

Classic diaries of Lt.-Col. The Hon. Ralph Gerard Alexander Hamilton, a former regular officer of the 3rd Hussars who was commanding the Essex Horse Artillery on the outbreak of war. Finding that this territorial regiment was not likely to see imminent active service, he managed to become appointed as an interpreter with the 7th Division, accompanying the division to Flanders where it was immediately embroiled in the first battle of Ypres. He was badly bruised when a shell blew him from his horse & invalided at the end of October; gazetted to the 2nd Life Guards in December and returned to France in January 1915, but after several months returned to the Reserve Regiment at Windsor. Whilst at home he took command of "C" Battery 106th Bde. Royal Field Artillery, 24th Div., & landed with the unit in France in September. This new & inexperienced div. was committed too soon to battle (at Loos) and performed poorly: the confusion of the period is eloquently conveyed. From 1915 onwards Belhaven served continuously on the Western Front (apart from periods of leave), latterly as commander of 106th Brigade R.F.A. He was Killed in Action near Amiens on 31st March 1918. Contains a very valuable daily record of artillery work on the Western Front, largely relating to the Ypres Salient (where Hamilton spent lengthy periods in 1916 and 1917). Orig. red cloth, gilt, VG & very scarce original edition. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 53714] £225

A hugely valuable & evocative collection of Great War eye-witness accounts by servicemen/women on all fronts, from both previously published sources & specially contributed articles, with many hundreds of interesting photographs & other illustrations. The value & interest of this contemporary work cannot be underestimated. Originally published as a partwork but more frequently (& conveniently) found in this durable binding. Contemp. maroon publisher's cloth, gilt, VG & very highly recommended. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58487] £75

151. HANKEY (Lord) The Supreme Command 1914-1918. 1st Ed., 2 Vols., xv+435pp., 4 portraits, 2 maps & ix+[469]pp., 4 portraits, map. VG in dws. A&U. 1961

The "inner history" of the Supreme Command by long-serving secretary to the War Council & Cabinet (& creator of the Cabinet Secretariat), including inside knowledge of seemingly everybody & everything, including the Dardanelles & Mesopotamia Commissions, &c. "...the most extensive account hitherto of the deliberations of the War Council. The account was a fiercely damning indictment, made more striking by the fact that many of the retrospective criticisms of the supreme command had been made at the time by Hankey but had simply been swept aside..." - Edward Spiers in The First World War & British Military History. Valuable source. Orig. blue cloth, gilt, VG in dws, nice pair. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58398] £65

Standard text on development of artillery survey & work on the Western Front: How the Observation Groups & Sound Ranging Sections Came to be Formed; Fulfilled Their Purpose; Survey Posts & Their Equipment; experiences of participants in France & Italy, &c. Useful & informative work. Orig. brown cloth, gilt, VG in chipped dw, rare, especially in dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57554] £225
167. IRONSIDE (Maj.-Gen. Sir Edmund, KCB) Tannenberg: The First Thirty Days in East Prussia. 1st Ed., x+306pp., 14 fldg. maps. Blackwood. 1925
Balanced & solid account of the brilliant German 1914 operation on the Eastern Front. "Major-General Ironside gives the Germans every credit for their resolution & speed, but points out how greatly they were assisted by their opponents' lack of training & equipment, & by the mistakes made by the two separated Russian commanders. After all his criticisms, however, Tannenberg remains one of the most brilliant operations of the War, as he is ready to admit." - Falls. At the time of writing Ironside was Commandant of the Staff College. Orig. cloth, little wear, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58537] £35
168. JEFFERY (Jeffery E.) [Pseud. of MARSTON (Jeffery E.)] Servants of the Guns. 1st Ed., [viii]+264pp. Smith, Elder. 1917

A regular gunner officer wounded in 1914, the author here describes his second stint at the Front, with a New Army battery inc. the Somme, 1916. Although a Regular, & therefore biased, he admired the New Army men with whom he served during the Battle of the Somme. Orig. cloth, minor wear o/w VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57559] £65

169. JENKINS (Ivor B.) aka "A Loot." Poems of Peace & War. 1st Ed., orig. printed wraps., 15pp. No imprint or date but c.1919.

Twelve poems or rhymes, all with war themes, with titles ranging from The Song of the Lewis Gun & The Foot-Slogger to To a Salvage Dump & Homeward Bound. A slight but scarce work, listed in Reilly (pps. 181 & 203) citing BPL copy. Jenkins' pen-name suggests that he was an officer; the only man of this name in the Army Lists of the period was a Lieutenant in the Welsh Regiment, commissioned in November 1917, who served with the 2nd Bn. in France in 1918. VG in orig. printed wraps. Scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58449] £50

First-hand accounts of service experiences contributed to Punch by Alec Leith Johnston whilst serving in France with 1st KSLI. Johnston was Ed. at St. Paul's & Exeter College, Oxford, enlisted Artists's Rifles 1914 & commissioned 1915. KiA near Ypres 22/4/1916 and is buried in Essex Farm Cemetery. Includes an Appreciation by the Medical Officer of his bn. which includes a description of his final action & previous events in Flanders. Orig. blue cloth, VG & scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57529] £65

171. JOHNSTON (Lt.-Col. Harrison, DSO) Extracts from An Officer's Diary 1914-18: Being the Story of the 15th & 16th Service Battalions The Cheshire Regiment (Originally Bantams). 1st Ed., 156pp. Manchester: Geo. Falkner & Sons. 1919

Author's personal diary of service with 15th (S) Bn. Cheshire Regiment, initially as a company commander & later in command, with 35th Division in France & Flanders from Jan. 1916 onwards inc the Somme & Arras, 3rd Ypres, Spring Offensive, Final Advance &c. Rare privately printed work, paper covd. boards with cloth backstrip, title to front, VG & inscribed in ink to: "Lieut. D.W. Mills from Lt. Col. H. Johnston D.S.O. Xmas 1919." See illustration on our website. [Ref: 56795] £225

172. LEE (L/Cpl. Joseph, 1/4th Black Watch) Ballads of Battle. 1st Ed., x+102pp., 17 drawings by the author. VG in chipped dw. John Murray. 1916

War poems & appealing drawings of characters, billets &c. After service in France (his bn. was attached to the Indian Corps) in 1915-16 Lee was commissioned in KRRC & taken PoW at Cambrai in 1917. Orig. printed paper covd. boards with red cloth sp., gilt, near fine in sl. chipped dw (small loss at foot of sp.). See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58471] £95

173. LESLIE (Shane) Ed. Memoirs of Brigadier-General Gordon Shephard, DSO, MC. 1st Ed., 233pp., 7 illus. (inc. attractive col. frontis. of his Memorial Scroll, several portraits & his original 'propeller' wooden grave marker), 2 maps. Privately Printed. 1924

Shephard, formerly of the Royal Fusiliers, was an early entrant to the fledgling RFC & went to France with No. 4 Squadron in 1914. He later commanded Nos. 10 and 6 Squadrons, then 8 & 12 Wings. He was killed in an accident 19/1/1918 & buried in Lapugnoy Military Cemetery. Contains an account of his youth at Summerfields & Eton, much on pre-war yachting but also an account of his service career & extracts from letters from France 1914-17 + list of sorties undertaken in 1914. Orig. paper covd. boards with cloth backstrip, labels to front & sp., extremities sl. rubbed o/w VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58507] £225

174. LEWIS (Cecil, MC) Sagittarius Rising. 6th Imp., 1st Cheap Ed., viii+332pp. Peter Davies. 1936

The classic memoir of a young Western Front fighter ace: "We walked off the playing-fields into the lines. We lived supremely in the moment. Our preoccupation was the next patrol, our horizon the next leave." Orig. second issue cloth, titled in black, little tanned, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58541] £20

175. LIDDELL HART ([Capt. Basil]) The War in Outline 1914-1918. 1st Ed., 259pp., 7 maps (4 fldg.). VG in dw. Faber & Faber. 1936

The publisher claims that this is "not a mere miracle of condensation. It is the best possible introduction to more extended reading; while, taken in itself, it provides readers, who have no time for closer study, with a clear grasp of the general course of events & of the principles (& the errors) of the opposing strategies." - see sleeve notes. Nice copy in dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57396] £35

176. LYTTON (Major Hon. Neville) The Press & the General Staff. 1st Ed., xvii+232pp., 12 plates. Collins. 1920

11th Sussex & Brigade staff until called to GHQ to set up a foreign press mission after the Somme, with author's appealing Western Front sketches. Relates numerous outspoken views & opinions. "His account of the representatives of the Press on the Western Front & the regulations under which they worked is always readable, & sometimes, as in the story of an interview given by Lord Haig & its repercussions in political quarters at home, of importance." - Falls. Orig. black cloth, gilt, rather worn ex-lib. but sound & complete. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58456] £15

177. MACGILL (Patrick) The Brown Brethren. New Ed., 306pp. Herbert Jenkins. 1918
Another Western Front novel by the prolific author who served with the 18th London Irish on the Western Front. Interesting depiction of life in & behind the line, the London Irish Rifles featuring, as usual, prominently. Orig. brown cloth, "21st Thousand" but remarkably scarce for that; considered to be one of his scarcer works. Minor wear, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58535] £45

178. MACGILL (Patrick) The Diggers: The Australians in France. 1st Ed., 120pp. Jenkins. 1919

Atmospheric tales of the main Aussie battles, Pozieres, Villers Bretonneux, &c. Publication sponsored by Wellington House & generally considered to be MacGill's scarcest war book. Orig. red cloth, VG, nice clean copy. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57475] £30

179. MACK (Arthur) Shellproof Mack: An American's Fighting Story. 1st Ed., [xi]+224pp., frontis., 9 photos. VG in dw. Boston: Small, Maynard & Co. 1918

Author served with 23rd Bn. London Regt. on the Western Front inc. Somme 1916, Messines & 3rd Ypres 1917. Jacket note states that he was "seventeen months in the trenches. Did his turn in capturing the pill boxes.' Got his dose of mustard gas. Was buried in the mud by one shell & blown out by the next - hence the name of 'Old Shellproof.' Had a front seat at the blowing up of Hill 60 at Messines Ridge. What he describes he saw - and he tells what he saw in simple soldier language." Orig. dec. cloth, VG in attractive & scarce dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58322] £65

180. MACKAY (Ruddock F.) Fisher of Kilverstone. 1st Ed., xviii+539pp., portrait frontis., 4 plates, map. VG in dw. Oxford Univ. Press. 1973

188. MILLAIS (J.G.) Life of Frederick Courtenay Selous, D.S.O., Capt. 25th Royal Fusiliers. 4th Imp., xi+387pp., portrait frontis., 15 plates. Longmans. 1919

Selous was born in 1851 & Ed. at Rugby. In 1870 he left England for South Africa with the intention of earning his living as a professional elephant hunter. He spent his twenties and thirties exploring and shooting his way through South and East Africa, the Congo Basin, Rhodesia &c., was awarded the Gold Medal of the RGS & other accolades. Served with irregular forces in Matabele Wars 1893 (wounded) and 1895. In 1915, aged sixty-four, he was given a commission in the 25th (S) Bn., Royal Fusiliers, the Frontiersmen Battalion. This unusual unit was raised in London in Feb. 1915 for service in East Africa and comprised many members of the Legion of Frontiersmen. Many of the volunteers were older men, worldly and experienced adventurers. In March 1915 they embarked for East Africa - uniquely without preliminary training - & saw much action over the following two-and-a-half years. After a year of service Selous was absent for some time as he had to return to England for an operation, but returned & was KiA leading an advance on Behobeho on 4/1/1917. He was twice Mentioned in Despatches and awarded the DSO. A detailed account of his adventurous life by a friend (who shared in some of these adventures) with access to Selous' voluminous correspondence to family members and friends (incl. Theodore Roosevelt). Includes letters written during the campaign in German East Africa. Orig. blue cloth, gilt, little rubbed, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57468] £45

190. MORGAN (C[harlotte]. Linda) Conway Morgan 1885-1915: A Memoir by His Mother. 1st Ed., x+197pp., portrait frontis., 4 plates. Longmans, Green. 1926

Arthur Conway Osborne Morgan was born in 1885 at Cambridge, Ed. at Winchester & Trinity College, Cambridge, called to the Bar in 1909. He was a pre-war member of the Honourable Artillery Company & was commissioned in the 3rd North Midland Bde. Royal Field Artillery (Territorial Force) in 1912. He was KiA in the attack on Hohenzollern Redoubt, 13th October 1915 & is buried in Canadian Cemetery No. 2, Neuville-St. Vaast. He was thirty, and at the time of his death was attached (for operations) to the 5th Battalion Lincolnshire Regiment as "smoke-bomb officer." Contains a detailed memoir of his life, some 50pp. of extracts from his letters from the Front (quite interesting for the life of a gunner officer in 1915), a selection from letters of condolence & some of his poems. Orig. blue cloth, gilt, VG with front & sp. panels of dw tipped in at rear, alongside a press clipping reporting the discovery of his body by French peasants near to the Hohenzollern Redoubt in 1931. An excellent selection of first-hand accounts, being the best of some 300 pieces submitted to a competition run by "Everyman" magazine, mainly Western Front, also Gallipoli, Macedonia &c., & very largely otherwise unpublished. Orig. red cloth, gilt, superb copy in very sl. chipped but rare & attractive dw. Rare in any form, but especially in dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58473] £245

203. QUEX [Pseud. of NICHOLS (Capt. G.H.F., RFA)] Pushed. 2nd Ed., 336pp., 2 maps. Constable. 1930
Fine personal account of March Retreat & Allied Advance in 1918, serving with 82nd Bde. RFA, 18th Divisional Artillery. "The well-known journalist known as 'Quex' does not... hide his light under a bushel. He has, however, written a most entertaining account of a battery of the 18th Divisional Artillery in the German offensive of March 1918 & of the great British 'return push.'" - Falls. Orig. blue cloth, sl. sunned, VG. First published 1919: this new edition includes a short Introductory Letter by R.C. Sherriff & two maps (the 18th Div. sector in March 1918 & the division's attack on the Hindenburg Line at Vendhuile at the end of September) not in the 1919 edition. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57549] £65

Frank, even "indiscreet" (Bond) diaries of the Times military correspondent. Falls commented: "...Here, it was said, was an elderly 'thruster,' living in the greatest comfort, dining & wining with all the prettiest & most charming ladies of London, & from the vantage point of Hampstead continually calling for more sacrifices, to say nothing of interfering with the plans of serving soldiers & statesmen... His real value is that he gives the running comment of a trained & acute observer on events as they occurred, & puts the 'Westerner's' point of view intelligently." Ian Beckett (Frocks & Brasshats, in First World War & British Military History) reports Edmonds' opinion that "the gossips & intrigues thus laid bare lost Repington his 'social position.'" Orig. olive cloth, minor wear, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58450] £30

Newspaper proprietor who "became a prominent figure during the war of 1914-18. Being very friendly with Lloyd George & useful to him, especially in connexion with the press" - DNB, stating that this memoir "was instantly welcomed as a useful contribution to history, throwing light on many events not before fully elucidated, as well as being an entertaining collection of portraits drawn from first-hand knowledge." Orig. blue cloth, little rubbed, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58433] £15

211. ROBERTSON (Field Marshal Sir William, GCB, GCMG, KCVO, DSO) Soldiers & Statesmen 1914-1918. 1st Ed., 2 Vols., xvi+333 & ix+327pp., 8 plates. VG in dws. Cassell. 1926
Mostly concerns the middle part of the war when author was Chief of the Imperial General Staff, including discussion of the Easterners v. Westerners debate & “of his efforts to teach statesmen that armies require food, which in turn requires ships & rail or road transport. Some will think, however, that Sir William reveals a certain inelasticity of thought & of temper which to a small extent justified the impatience of the statesmen while being instructed.” - Falls (awarding a coveted star). Orig. black cloth, gilt, near fine in dws & scarce thus. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 56625] £70

VG in sl. chipped dws. Ernest Benn. 1926/1928.

Excellent set of important papers: “It would require a short essay to give even the briefest summary of the contents of this work, perhaps the most important existing document regarding the entry into the War of the United States... Colonel House was the unofficial alter ego of the President, & when he differed from him he to a great extent led him. He visited Europe in 1915 & 1916 with the object of bringing the War to an end by negotiation, & clever as he undoubtedly was, it took him a long time to understand the European situation. When he did understand it he realised almost at once that the United States would have to intervene, & he, probably more than any other man, was responsible for her intervention...” - Falls. VG set in sl. chipped dws. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58418] £75

Interesting correspondence loosely inserted

228. THOMAS (Helen) As it Was. By "H.T." 1st Ed., [vii]+116pp. (with the replacement leaf p.53/54). Heinemann. 1926

Dedicated by Helen Thomas to "E.T.", her husband the poet Edward Thomas who was killed in the battle of Arras in 1917 with 244th Siege Battery RGA. They were married in 1899, young & she pregnant, & this book, which was considered shocking, describes their early acquaintance, romance & courtship, & early married life. For study of Edward Thomas it has value in describing his formative years, the influences of his own & Helen's parents' attitudes to his literary aspirations, &c. Page 53/54, describing an intimate moment, was removed soon after publication & a replacement page affixed to the stubb of the original: apparently (see note below) perhaps as few as ten copies with the original leaf in place survived. This copy with pencil ownership inscrip. of the minor 20th Century poet John Harris & three loosely inserted ALS to Harris from the bookseller Bertram Rota, all 1926 (the year of publication of the book) & on his notepaper at 108 Charing Cross Road (where he opened for business in 1924), discussing several books & stating that, "As it Was does exist in an unexpurgated form. I have seen a copy, though I cannot buy it. The censored passage is quite short and rather more intimate than the rest - refers to 'David's' [i.e. Alan Thomas] kissing her body & undressing. It is possible that less than ten copies exist thus." In another letter Bertram Rota says "It is one of the most whole heartedly sincere books I have read - an important document & a beautiful confession, but I cannot help feeling that it is a little too sacred for the vulgar gaze. The leaves (pp. 54-57) were cancelled & others inserted, and although some copies may have got out in the original form I think it very doubtful..." To the final letter in the sequence of three, Rota attaches a short typed note of the excised intimate passage "which you may care to keep with your copy" & with the worthy dedication of the professional salesman adds: "I will try to persuade the owner of the 1st issue shown me to sell, although I doubt if he will. Would you care to tempt him with an offer? Kindest regards. Very sincerely yours, Bertram Rota." A most interesting copy. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58353] £145

229. THOMPSON (P.A., BA, Capt., RASC) Lions Led by Donkeys: Showing How Victory in the Great War was Achieved by Those Who Made the Fewest Mistakes. 1st Ed., xv+317pp., 2 photos., 5 maps. VG in sl. chipped dw. Werner Laurie. 1927

Intelligently addresses a commendable range of issues in an informative manner. "...a fair attempt to give a record of the whole War" - Falls. Orig. red cloth, titled in black, VG in sl. chipped dw, rare, & especially so in dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58475] £145

252. MOBERLY (Brig.-Gen. F.J., CB, CSI, DSO) Official History of the War: Military Operations Togoland & the Cameroons 1914-1916. 1st Ed., xxv+469pp., 43 photos., 15 fldg. maps. HMSO. 1931

Suppression of the German colonies in West Africa. Togoland was a self-sufficient German colony but was largely undefended & swiftly despatched by the Gold Coast Regiment of the West African Frontier Force in the first campaign of the war, falling on 26/8/1914. Cameroons, in a much more substantial series of operations, was also taken care of by the (much expanded) WAFF, but did not surrender until Feb. 1916. Orig. red cloth, gilt, very rare orig. edition, little amrked, VG with several neat ink ownership inscrips., one noting "Read on board H.M.T. Monarch of Bermuda Liverpool-Freetown, Sierra Leone, 5th to 15th August 1940.". See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58528] £260

MANUSCRIPT MATERIAL & EPHEMERA 1914-1918

255. WELDON (Capt. L.B., MC) "Hard Lying"; Eastern Mediterranean 1914-1919. Privately published dup. typescript, [vi]+200pp., 2 sketches, 4to. Cairo. 1923

Dup. typescript memoirs of a courageous & intrepid, but forgotten spy, base on diaries kept during 1914-18, with a number of ink corrections to the text by the author, with his inscription: "Patrick Scott with L B Weldon's compliments. Clonbeale, Birr, Ireland 1/8/24." This rare privately circulated memoir was later published in book form by Herbert Jenkins in 1926, & Falls wrote: "Hard Lying does not refer to any lack of veracity on the part of the author of this book, but to certain technical conditions which enable naval ratings to draw extra pay. Captain Weldon, who was neither soldier nor sailor, commanded the 'Anne,' formerly the 'Aenne Rickmers,' a German prize which was used in the defence of Egypt & during the Dardanelles Campaign as a parent ship to French sea-planes. He also had a good deal of touchy secret service work in landing & re-embarking agents on the coast of Asia Minor & Syria. His story is not well written but it is very readable & at times humorous." Weldon was involved in coastal operations in connection with the Hejaz in 1916 then served aboard HM Yacht 'Menagam,' 1917-19, doing secret work, & in his Foreword states: "When I mention how I went ashore on dark nights from a boat from the 'Menagem' while lying off a hostile coast, I should also call the attention of my readers to the seamanship & clever navigation required to bring the 'Menagem' to the exact position on a coast bereft of lights, & in many cases badly charted; this however, was successfully accomplished by Capt. Cain on every occasion during the two years I was in his ship..." Rare privately circulated memoirs, orig. printed paper covd. boards with black cloth spinestrip, little rubbed & worn, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58485] £225

256. 2nd Lieut. Charles Douglas Lucas Hill, 9th (S) Bn. Royal Sussex Regt., formerly 28th London Regt. (Artists' Rifles): Killed in Action 14th February 1916. Hard covered "Partridge & Cooper's" pocket diary during service in France with the 9th Sussex from 31/10/15 to 31/12/1915, 157x100mm, with short but interesting daily entries (see extracts below). 2/Lt. Hill was Killed in Action 14/2/1916 when he & his entire platoon were buried alive by the explosion of a German mine. He is buried in Menin Road South Cemetery, near Ypres.

Hill landed in France on 31/10/15 & joined 9th Sussex the following day (the battalion had arrived in France just two months before, on 1/9/15). He was posted to command No. 15 Platoon, "D" Coy. (Lt. Robertson) & spent the winter in the trenches of the Ypres Salient apart from a one week bombing course (14-20/11/15) & machine gun course (20-25/12/15). Experiences in & out of the line typical of the period. Some extracts: 1/11/15: "Left Hazebrouck for Poperinghe but break journey at Godeswaersvelde & from there proceeded by motor bus to Reninghelst to find Regt. up in trenches. Report to Adjutant but sent back to spend the night at Dickebusche"; 6/11/15: "Start away at 2.45 pm for the trenches. Arrive at trenches about 7.30 pm. We relieve the R. West Kents"; 7/11/15: "Spend quiet day in trenches. Not much doing. Trenches in very bad state & need a great deal of attention. Slept with Shaw in his dugout, but very uncomfortable"; 11/11/15: "Try & improve my portion of trench. Get some of superfluous water away. Bosche sends a few whizz bangs over. A very wet night, & turn in wet. Dugout starts to leak"; 16/12/15: "Orderly dog. Inspect & mount guards at nine, billets & turn out guard at 12. Complaints round at 12.45. Staff parade 9. Turned out guard at 10.30. Lecture on trench tactics given by Major"; 17/12/15: "Parade at 9.00. Give lecture on trench orders. Practice gas helmet drill. Bomb competition in afternoon. 13 & 14 [platoons] win first round. Raining"; 18/12/15: "Parade at 9.30. Finish bomb throwing competition. 13 defeat 14 very close finish. Soccer match between B & D, B win by 3-0. Knight & Matthews come over & stop for tea." Useful but brief diary, mentioning a dozen or so other officers of the battalion, together with photocopies of Hill's personal file & some battalion War Diary extracts. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58346] £275

257. MACLEOD (Col. R., DSO, MC) An Artillery Officer in the First World War. Dup. typescript in card covs. with cloth backstrip, label to front, foolscap format, [iii]+244pp., 19 maps & sketches. Unpublished memoirs privately circulated by the author. nd (c.1965). MacLeod started the war as a subaltern in 80th Batt. RFA, was severely wounded during the Retreat from Mons, but rejoined in time to serve at Neuve Chapelle, Festubert & Aubers Ridge in 1915; on the Somme in 1916 he was attached to the RFC as a Liaison Officer & records much of interest on artillery observation work, &c. Early in 1917 he was appointed to command "A" Battery, 240 Bde. RFA, then "C" Battery, 241 Bde. at Passchendaele & onwards, including the Asiago Plateau in 1918. Exceptionally observant, substantial, detailed & unpublished memoirs of the war on the Western Front, with copy letter from the Librarian of the Imperial War Museum, Miss Rose Coombs, acknowledging receipt of a copy in 1965: she comments on various aspects of MacLeod's narrative, including his participation in the Battle of Neuve Chapelle & his work with the RFC, adding: "I do not think I have ever read a more detailed & competent account of the life of an artillery officer in the Great War, & know that we shall find the volume a mine of information concerning the little things, the everyday occurrences which never get a mention in an official history, as well as the views of the battles in which you were engaged, which will be most useful to both museum staff & historians carrying out research." Minor wear, VG & highly recommended. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 57537] £450

258. Infantry Officer's Training Notes 1916. Manuscript notebook of course notes made by Cadet F. Mitchell, E Coy., Officers Training Batt., St. John's College, Cambridge in Nov. 1916. Includes: Communication Drill; Squad Drill; Words of Command; Orderly Officer, Sgt. & Cpl., duties of; Trench Warfare; Fortifications; Bombing; Outposts &c., &c.

Interesting record of officer training in 1916. Another cadet has utilised the unused versos., with further notes on, inter alia, March Discipline, Taking Over Trenches &c. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58324] £35

259. BRECKENRIDGE (William) From Vimy to Mons: A Historical Narrative by William Breckenridge, ex 42nd Canadian Black Watch, Canadian Expeditionary Force. 254pp., dup. typescript, large format (275x220mm approx.) compiled by the author in 1919 but issued by him in this duplicated form in 1957.

A rare personal memoir of service with the 42nd Bn. CEF in France & Flanders, compiled by the author in 1919 but not circulated by him until 1957, & then presumably in a limited edition. He was a signaller & joined his battalion with a draft in 1916. Foreword states: "Of the many stories that have been written about wars but few of them have given the truth concerning the suffering & hardships that the front line fighting infantrymen are called upon to endure.. In this story I have endeavoured throughout to give the front line fighting infantryman's account... I have given the plain facts regarding the actualities of battle, naturally as I, in my own small way, saw them, & every statement or fact about any incident mentioned can be accepted as true... I have served on more than three dozen front line sectors... from Ypres to Amiens... I was fortunate to pass through many of the principal battles with the first wave of attacking troops & return unscarred... many dear friends fell... I saw my regiment decimated five times - at Vimy, Passchendaele, Amiens, Arras & Cambrai... Every trench that I have mentioned, & the dates given, are genuine... The official signalling messages & documents that I refer to are in my possession & are the original papers that were actually received in the trenches, & the names of the persons used are not fictitious..." The Contents include: Going to the Front; Life in the Trenches; Battle of Vimy Ridge; Dodging Trench Mortars in Avion; Fritz Uses Mustard Gas...; Almost Drowned in Flanders Mud; The Great Battle of Amiens; Smashing the Hindenburg Line, &c., & the whole piece is informative, well-written & gripping: a fine personal account. Issued by the author in card wraps., this copy bound in handsome black cloth with gilt tile to sp., with author presentation inscription: To Mr C.E. Dornbusch, The Author, William Breckenridge. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58462] £275

1914-1918 MAPS, INCLUDING TRENCH MAPS

260. Gallipoli Map. 1:250,000. The Gallipoli sheet & its southerly neighbour (SW Turkey, Tenedos, Lesbos, &c.) pasted together, both trimmed at the edges for the ease of the original user, approx. 78x86 cm. Fldg. linen backed War Office maps dated May 1915.

Shows the whole of the Peninsula, the Dardanelles/Gallipoli Strait & much of the mainland, with interesting key identifying roads, telegraphs & various features. Note in blue pencil on reverse: "Captain Glyn. Asia Minor. Objectives R.N.A.S." while another note on margin of maps states "Captain Glyn G.S. / G.H.Q." Four locations on the railway line between Panderma & Smyrna are neatly marked in red ink & are presumably the RNAS objectives. Note: Major Lord Glyn, MC, was attached to GHQ MEF June-Dec. 1916. A copy of his campaign correspondence is held in the archives of the IWM. VG, interesting sheet. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58534] £85

261. Saloniki. Scale 1:200,000. Fldg. linen-backed map, 54x70cms. GSGS. 1915
Gulf of Salonika & points north & east. Main communications, roads & tracks delineated in red. This was the only map with which regimental officers landed in Macedonia. VG. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58539] £45

262. Battle of Arras; action south of Pelves, near Monchy le Preux, 12th May 1917: 36th MG Coy. & 11th Middlesex. Four contemp. duplicated foolscap 1:10,000 scale maps of trench system south of Pelves (Harness Lane, Monchy Trench, &c.) each with a Report section to the right hand side of the map detailing the course of an evening operation, with the Reports timed 6.30, 7.45, 7.55 & 11.22 pm, plus one untimed map, lacking the Message portion, but showing MG position.

The first in the sequence is stated to be "Copy of Report from Capt. Anderson" noting "Am here [pencil mark on map] Send reinforcements with L. Gun & attack in direction of arrow [pencilled on map]." The second, at 7.45, from 36 MG Coy. (Lt. W.J. Stevens) to Coy. Commander 11th Middlesex, shows his position with an X, just in advance of Halberd Trench, which is pencilled in on the map, stating: "Two at least of your officers are killed... Some of your men are in shell holes about here also 1 of my guns. I should advise you to withdraw & send round word to me. DEVILS trench is still in possession of Bosch in front & on our left..." OC "B" Coy. 11th Middlesex reports at 7.55: "Unless I hear to the contrary I shall reinforce C & A Coys. with a platoon each at DUSK." The final report in this sequence is from Lt. Stevens, 36 MG Coy. to Coy. Commander, 11th Middlesex, timed 11.22 pm: "Infantry in shell holes up to about 75 yds. from Bosch who still hold DEVILS trench. The infantry are disorganised & scattered & are not in touch with one another. Platoon commander on left has been killed.." This operation does not appear to figure in the official history or the 12th Division history, but reference to the Middlesex history provides details: An attack by the 11th Middlesex on Devil's trench was timed for 6 pm: it was heavily repulsed & failed; a second attack at 9.45 pm also failed. The ams & reports here present provide rather more close detail than the regimental history. Serviceworn but generally VG & an interesting sequence. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58365] £145

263. TRENCH MAP: Area of Martinpuich. 1:20,000. Fldg. linen-backed map "Part of Sheets 57D SE & 57C SW.," trenches corrected to 6/7/1916, shows German front trench systems between Thiepval, Ovillers, Pozieres & Contalmaison soon after the commencement of the British offensive. 296. SKRINE (W.H.) The White Horse: A History of the Berkshire Yeomanry Vol. II (1921-1946). 1st Ed., 99pp., 2 maps, foolscap dup. ts. No imprint/date but privately printed, c.1960.

Author, an officer with the unit at one time, compiled this detailed history c.1960. During WW2 the Berkshire Yeomanry was given the title 145 Berkshire Yeomanry Field Regt., RA. It remained in the UK until sent to India in Feb. 1945, participated in Operation Zipper - the unopposed but not entirely trouble-free invasion of Malaya - with 25th Indian Division, then in bloody post-war operations in Java (which earned them the General Service Medal with clasp "South-East Asia 1945-46") attached to the 5th Indian Division, where there was "open warfare with extremist guerillas who were terrorising the inhabitants... The so called Republic of Indonesia, with whom Allied Forces were endeavouring to co-operate, were in touch with the extremists but had little or no control over them... Our immediate aim was to restore order in Java... the military problem was beset with all manner of political factors..." The regiment was in action at Sorabaja &c., and the author gives a very interesting & detailed account of these operations, with 2 supporting maps. There are few good accounts of this campaign & this one helps augment those of the Official History, &c. Among several interesting Appendices is a 5pp. recollection of the Great War by Lt.-Col. S.T. Austin, adjutant during the campaign against the Senussi & then attached to the Egyptian Army in the Sudan. Privately printed & rare. Orig. green rexine with gilt title & regimental device to front board. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58452] £145

REGIMENTAL HISTORY

311. Records of the "A" Signal Company, Formerly 1st Division Telegraph Battalion (Formerly "C" Troop) Royal Engineers. A folio volume (370x275mm approx.) reproducing approx. 80pp., plus several fldg. maps relating to operations in Somaliland, several other maps & around 30 photos. of the unit on manoeuvres &c.

An early, perhaps c.1950, photographic reproduction of an original unique ms. record maintained by the unit, & possibly the only copy reproduced in this form, bearing the ink stamp of the Royal Signals Institution to ffep: most certainly very rare. Contains reproduced ms. records from the conclusion of the SA War & the establishment of two Telegraph 'battalions', with roll of all commissioned officers who served between 1902-1914 (noting their onward postings). In January 1903 a detachment was sent on operations in Somaliland, as recorded in the ms. statement of services: "On the 2nd January a Section consisting of 2 officers - Captain H.B. Roberts and Lt. H.L. Mackworth DSO - and 58 NCOs & men left for Somaliland. A further draft of 1 officer - Lt. H.G. Gandy - & 50 NCOs & men followed in July." There follow reproductions of parts of several rare contemp. intelligence reports inc. 'Somaliland Field Force. Report on Work of Telegraph Section,' 'Report on Working of Telegraphs From 1.7.03 to 1.4.04,' & 'Report on Method of Constructing Berbera-Bohotle Telegraph Line' - these are accompanied by 6 large fldg. maps. This campaign was the unit's only active service prior to 1914 & most of the remainder of the work consists of reports on manoeuvres &c., including reproduced sports programmes, annual rolls of NCOs serving with the unit, &c. Older plain black cloth with printed paper title label to front board. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58428] £250

Precedes Lock's work on the same battalion by 15 years, & contains different details. "The accounts of its fighting actions are written in a detached & impersonal style & are not always easy to follow. The poor quality of the maps does little to overcome this problem. However, the dates of all key events are shown in the page margins & these, when consulted in conjunction with the 'Diary of Events' appendix, are most useful in tracing the Bn's movements & deployments." - Perkins. I think this is a slightly unfair condemnation as the author served with the battalion & includes much interesting, atmospheric detail, together with interesting photos. Roll of Hon, awards. Orig. dec. paper covd. boards with blue cloth backstrip, VG & rare. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58364] £225

To a degree a polemic, but a most interesting one. In the Introduction the author claims that “of the fifty-two Captains & Lt.-Colonels in the seven battalions of Foot Guards... only one officer has seen a shot fired by an enemy [whereas] of the 143 Lt.-Colonels commanding battalions of Infantry of the Line & Colonial Corps, sixty two have been in action, & all have undergone various tours of Foreign Service.” Of course this statement was made some 35 years after Waterloo & just before the Crimea: most of the Army’s recent campaigns had been fought in the East, where the Guards were never deployed, but using it as a device to emphasise the difference in attitude & experience the author deals with twelve topics by use of imaginary correspondence, each illustrated by a plate with two drawings (by Alfred Crowquill) of situations as they might occur in a Guards regiment & a regiment of the Line. “To question the gallantry of the Guards, would be to acknowledge a degree of ignorance in the history of our own country, not very complimentary to the enquirer... But it is not to enlarge on so firmly-established a point, that this ‘plaisanterie’ illustrated by the inimitable pencil of Alfred Crowquill, is laid before the public eye; but rather, by aid of the powerful talents of that artist, to pourtray [sic] the ‘working of a system,’ which in some cases entails injustice on the Line... It is not on the score of regimental rank when confined to the Brigade, neither is it by reason of the Guards remaining in England, that the working soldier is aggrieved... that is a matter for disquisition between the House of Commons & the tax payers...” Orig. red cloth, minor wear, VG, amusing & scarce. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58445] £50
